WWA Group, Inc., Signs a New Agreement to extend the “Closing Date” for its recent Stock Exchange Agreement with AllCom

WWA Group and AllCom agreed to extend the closing date for their Agreement and Plan of Stock Exchange, WWA Group will file a new Form 8K, with the SEC, to disclose the details including a copy of the Agreement

Portland, MI – February 2, 2015 – WWA Group, Inc. (OTCBB: WWAG), parent of Summit Digital, Inc., a provider of cable television, high speed internet and related services to rural U.S. communities, announced today that it has extended the closing date for its definitive agreement to acquire 100% of the outstanding shares of Genie Gateway, a provider of electronic payment services and unified communications to unbanked and under-banked merchants, consumers, and emerging industries, to March 16, 2015.

WWA Group intends to leverage Genie Gateway to enhance its existing plan to consolidate the fragmented wireless broadband marketplace. WWA Group will integrate Genie Gateway’s digital buffet of unified solutions - combining the benefits of a subscriber website fully accessible from any internet enabled device, with voice, text, video, document messaging, virtual fax, group communications, including an online store, a shopping cart with a virtual point of sale, and a CashBox with a GenieChecking account, plus the most robust Virtual Office - with its current services as "one unified solution".

Tom Nix, president of WWAG, said that "The extra time provided by this extension will enable the new combination of WWAG and Genie Gateway to raise new capital of up to five million dollars to cover scaling up and rolling out the above services to the unbanked community".

"The future is very exciting for Genie Gateway. Just last week, we signed important agreements with two organizations that provide innovative patient and agricultural solutions, together with technology for the medical marijuana industry. Medical Marijuana Dispensaries are emerging businesses that need help with just about everything to run their operations. Genie Gateway is the most complete suite of services to offer these customers many new ways to reach, engage and serve their customers, vendors, and counterparts, while expanding the ease and safety of handling their financial transactions even when unbanked by traditional financial services firms", added Randall L. Skala, Genie Gateway's president.

"The U.S. cannabis industry grew 64% in 2013 and is expected to reach over $2.34 billion in size by the end of 2015," Skala cited. "Genie can provide most dispensaries services that can solve many of their operating problems almost overnight, including cash management, transaction processing, payroll processing, and point of sale solutions."

Thomas E. Skala, CEO of Genie Gateway parent AllCom, explained "our Peer-to-Peer Payments sometime also referred to as Person-to-Person Payments are a part of a new suite of services that is changing the financial services landscape and challenging traditional players to offer similar capabilities to customers, or risk losing business."

P2P Payments are a natural payment tool for the underserved or unbanked community. With an estimated 68 million Americans either underserved or unbanked, Genie Gateway is poised to become the premiere alternative financial services solution to expanding target markets, which include emerging pharmaceutical companies, payday loan providers, travel, entertainment and online destinations, direct sales and multi-level marketing groups, and other verticals."
